

Guest Covenant

This time of pandemic is like no other season in our lifetimes. We are being called to act in unfamiliar ways, staying home, distancing ourselves from others, wearing protective masks when we are in public places, and disclosing when we have been exposed to the virus. As a guest at the Claggett Center, we invite you to join the staff in creating a retreat experience that is safe and healthy for all participants.

We covenant in community to take these selfless actions:

- We will wear masks and face coverings during social settings.
- We will wash our hands regularly, carefully and fully.
- We will enter our spaces with care and intention.
- We will keep the recommended safe distance from others.
- We will assist with compassionate contact tracing.

If local or Maryland requirements change, we understand that this covenant may be revised for Claggett to comply with those requirements.

As we consider how we will gather together in person again, we realize our gathering will necessarily look different than it did before this season of pandemic. We now must remember and take care to protect every person present, as well as everyone with whom they will have contact. There is no shame when we act from selfless love. We will do this out of the abundance of our love and service as we commit ourselves to this community covenant.

We understand that as guests of the Claggett Center, it is our responsibility to help keep our fellow guests and Claggett staff safe. We will review the covenant with all group members and follow it.
